Reds Reported Holding Firm Near Stalingrad

REPULSE NAZI DRIVE, INFLICT HEAVY LOSSES

Russians Fall Back in Caucasus Before Black Sea Ports.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Aug. 14.—The Red army held stoutly on the approaches to Stalingrad today and claimed impressive successes northwest of Moscow, but the Soviet information bureau acknowledged that Russian troops in the Caucasus had fallen back before Nazi columns driving toward the Black Sea port of Novorossiisk and the Grozny oil fields.

The bureau's noon communiqué reported that Russian artillery repulsed a steadily attacking German force on the flanks of the Stalingrad front, had knocked out more than 100 enemy tanks, 38 armored cars and 350 trucks.

All the enemy assaults were repulsed with heavy losses, two complete German companies being wiped out in one attack and 500 men being killed in another, the bulletin declared.

Unofficially, however, it was reported later that the Germans actually had broken through and reached the city of Grozny, 15 miles northwest of Stalingrad, only to be hurled back by a furious Russian counter-attack.

Foot troops mopped up the battle front through these areas, said the communiqué, by massing great numbers of tanks in a narrow sector. The Red army's counter-attack was said to have separated the tanks from following foot troops, who were mopped up by Russian infantry.

The German-controlled radio reported that part of Stalingrad was in flames after intensive Nazi air attacks.

Northwest of Moscow the Russians reported they had slain 3,000 Germans in two days of fierce fighting during which they captured an unidentified place where the Nazis had held for more than a year.

Red Star, Soviet army organ, said the Germans' counter-attack failed 11 times in an unsuccessful attempt to recapture the point, situated on the shore of a lake (perhaps Lake Ilmen).

The same source reported that the seventh Dutch volunteer legion, composed mostly of Dutch Nazis, had made its appearance on the Leningrad front further to the northwest. The unit was fighting in June on the Volkhov front and then numbered about 4,000 men but now totals barely 1,500, Red Star said.

Fresh Attack
Two hundred miles southwest of the capital, in the Bryansk sector, dispatches from the front said the Russian struck out with fresh force, smashing into the Germans with tanks and infantry and forcing them to retire under a smokescreen after abandoning 56 firing points.

Indications that the Germans were trying to reinforce their positions northwest of Moscow by air to meet the sudden Russian offensive there were seen in reports that Soviet fliers had attacked a German bomber today, bringing down six of the enemy craft.

In the Caucasus, German troops drove down the Rostov-Baku railway toward the Caspian Sea, where they were to be within 140 miles of the Grozny oil fields after a swift 50-mile advance from Cherkassk.

Monday's communiqué also disclosed that another Nazi column aimed at Novorossiisk had been repulsed by Russian troops at one point near Krasnodar, some 63 miles from the Black Sea coast, forcing the Soviet troops to fall back to a new line of defense.

NAZI DEATH THREATS TO DUTCH CONTINUE

Broadcasts Repeat Reprisal Warnings Against Hostages.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Nazi broadcasts repeated threats against Dutch hostages unless they sabotage in the occupied Netherlands surrendered by midnight tonight and fear was expressed by Netherlands government sources here that a "terrible slaughter" was impending.

The Germans were said to hold 1,600 hostages.

Even as the deadline drew near there were new reports of continued sabotage. The Germans announced that four persons were arrested in an attempt to blow up a Nazi-controlled radio station.

A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm said Gen. Friedrich Christiansen, Nazi commander in the Netherlands, declared that explosives found on those arrested were of "foreign origin." He was quoted as threatening reprisals against Dutch hostages throughout the district.

None of the Nazi broadcasts heard here specified the number of hostages whose lives would be forfeited if the saboteurs who wrecked a Netherlands train a week ago failed to surrender.

An undisclosed number of German troops were killed in the week.

Meanwhile the Norwegian government in London said it had been unable to learn yet what punishment if any had been inflicted on some 900 men, women and children who were arrested in Oslo Aug. 3 for wearing flowers to commemorate the birthday of King Haakon of Norway.

There were new reports of Axis reprisals and threats in old Yugoslavia.

Roumdabout reports to Reuters said the Italians who "blasted the little Yugoslav village of Ravnik out of the ground" because of partisan activity, posted notices threatening death to any residents of neighboring villages who gave shelter to the homeless.

American sources in London received word from Greece that David Tiano, 38, former chief clerk in the United States consulate in Salonika, had been shot by the Germans as a hostage.

Tiano was among 20 hostages shot in groups of 10 during January by the source said. He was a naturalized Greek of Spanish-Jewish ancestry.

SOLOMON FIGHT SPREADS OVER WIDENED AREA

Allied Bombers Blast at Jap Reinforcing Warships and Transports.

By The Associated Press

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, Aug. 14.—The battle of the Solomon Islands, exploded over a broadening area of the South Seas today with Allied bombers blasting Japanese warships and transports apparently trying to reinforce garrisons hurried out of three coastal areas by United States marines.

Allied flying fortresses and medium bombers caught the enemy vessels in New Guinea waters, west of the Solomons, yesterday and drove home three separate attacks, a headquarters communiqué reported.

News of the land fighting still was meager as the battle entered its second week, and Washington's navy communiqué said only that operations were continuing.

There was every indication nevertheless that this first Allied offensive for the war had now begun, with the Japanese in major positions and one which might alter the whole course of the Pacific struggle.

(The Japanese reported without confirmation from any Allied source that their forces in the Solomons action had sunk 13 British and American cruisers, nine destroyers, 10 transports and three submarines, had damaged one cruiser, three destroyers and one transport, and had shot down 58 planes, two cruisers, two destroyers and 21 planes.)

U. S. Admiral Ernest J. King announced last Monday that Allied losses then included a cruiser, sunk and two destroyers and a transport, damaged.

(Tokyo's claims recalled its extravagant reports of Allied losses in the Coral Sea and Midway battles, which were only a resemblance to the facts. Both of those battles resulted in Japanese defeats.)

Yesterday's fighting
The headquarters communiqué said that during the first of yesterday's attacks on the Japanese ships off New Guinea, six Japanese Zero fighters challenged a flight of flying fortresses and that two enemy craft were shot down and three damaged.

Seven Zeros engaged medium bombers in the second attack and one of the enemy fighters was destroyed. The third Allied attack was carried out without interference.

All the Allied planes returned to their bases, but some sustained damage.

The Japanese vessels attacked in New Guinea waters presumably were heading towards the Solomons from Salamaua, their chief base in New Guinea, or from Rabaul or Gasmata, in New Britain.

AXIS RAIDING SHIP IN SOUTH ATLANTIC
Cruisers and Warplanes Hunt for Surface Raider.

By The Associated Press
Cruisers and warplanes were reported on the hunt today for an Axis surface raider preying on Allied shipping in the South Atlantic.

Other developments in the battle of the Atlantic included the sinking by enemy submarines of two small Cuban merchantmen in the Gulf of Mexico.

Brazilian sources in Rio de Janeiro indicated that heavy warships and planes had joined in a search since radioed reports last Monday that at least two United Nations vessels had been attacked by a surface raider 1,000 miles east of Rio.

Pending further information, the reported South Atlantic victims were not included in The Associated Press tabulation of announced Allied or neutral ship losses, which, counting the two Cuban craft, put at 422 the number of such vessels in Atlantic merchant sinkings since Pearl Harbor.

Likewise withheld from tabulation pending further details was the sinking of a Brazilian tugboat by a German submarine in the Caribbean 400 miles from the nearest land. This attack was disclosed yesterday with the arrival of 18 survivors at a Caribbean port.

British Declare Convoy at Malta After Sea Battle

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 14.—One of the greatest sea and air battles of the Mediterranean has cost Britain the cruiser Manchester and the aircraft carrier Eagle, but resulted in delivery of reinforcements and new planes for Malta and saw Italy's cruisers again turn tail and run, according to the British admiralty.

Known Axis losses include two submarines sunk and two cruisers hit by torpedoes, said the admiralty's communiqué which today gave the first official allied account of the battle which had been in progress since Tuesday.

The Rome radio declared, "the joint effort by British and American pooled resources was the greatest ever attempted in the Mediterranean." The admiralty made no mention of American participation.

Authoritative sources here said several aircraft carriers as well as British battleships accompanied the Malta convoy.

The admiralty intimated that the convoy might have suffered further losses or damage, suggesting it is not to be expected that extensive and dangerous operations of this type, carried out in close proximity to enemy bases, can be completed without loss.

It declared, however, that published Axis claims were known to be exaggerated.

Combined German and Italian claims included: sunk, three cruisers, two destroyers, 21 merchant ships and the aircraft carrier Eagle; damaged, one battleship, two aircraft carriers, including the U. S. aircraft carrier Wasp, and numerous other steamers and men-of-war.

Originally, however, the Germans had claimed only 21 merchant ships were in the entire convoy.

The Manchester was a 2,400-ton cruiser completed Aug. 4, 1939. She usually carried 700 men. Her main battery consisted of 12 6-inch guns. Carrying three planes, she was one of six of the Newcastle class of cruisers.

The communiqué hinted at the possibility of further British losses in a "dangerous operation of this type," but declared that published enemy claims of damage to the convoy were "known to be exaggerated."

Atlantic Charter Faith Reaffirmed by Roosevelt

Chief Executive Sends Message to Churchill on First Anniversary of Signing.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—On the first anniversary of the signing of the Atlantic charter, President Roosevelt reaffirmed today his faith in its eight cardinal principles as the basis for a better and happier world "when victory comes."

The chief executive and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England penned their names on the historic declaration in a secret meeting at sea exactly a year ago, when the United States still watched the war from the sidelines. Since then, all the United Nations have accepted its enunciation of post-war aims as a foundation upon which a permanent peace must rest.

When Victory Comes
"When victory comes," Mr. Roosevelt asserted in a message to Churchill today, "we shall stand shoulder to shoulder in seeking to nourish the great ideals for which we fight. It is a worthwhile battle. It will be so recognized through all the ages, even amid the unfortunate peoples who follow false gods today."

"We reaffirm our principles. They will bring us to a happier world."

These, in brief, are the charter's eight principles:
No territorial or other aggrandizement.
No territorial changes not in accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned.
Respect for the rights of all peoples to choose their forms of government.
Equal access by all nations to world trade and raw materials.
Fullest international economic collaboration.

Tonight's the night and South Main street between Center and Church streets is the place for the "junk rally" dance to be staged in the interest of Marion city and county metals and fairs salvage program. There will be entertainment for everybody, children as well as adults, the committee announces.

Festivities will begin at 9 o'clock when the street will be roped off for dancing for adults and roller skating for children. Brief talks on the salvage plans will be given by Mayor Russell C. Snare and E. L. Cleveland, assistant to the president of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., who will present the salvage program from the viewpoint of industry.

Entertainment will include music, square dancing and to open the festivities the Eagles band will play several numbers. The committee asks that there be no parking in the area after 8 o'clock and that all cars be cleared by 8:30 when the street will be roped off.

194 Tons of Metal Shipped from County
Marion county has shipped 194 tons of iron and steel scrap, mostly from automobiles, into the war production machine during the last 30 days, it was announced by the district automobile salvage section in an Associated Press dispatch from Cleveland today.

According to the dispatch, automobile graveyards in 47 northern Ohio counties poured 19,569 tons of iron and steel into production channels during the 30-day period. Marion county's quota, set by the local scrap metals salvage committee, is 500 tons a month.

In the previous 30-day period, the area shipped 21,751 tons of iron and steel to be scrapped.

A. M. Robinson, district salvage chief, said the shrinkage in tonnage was due to intense activity earlier and depleted inventories. "Old jalopies are not being scrapped by individuals as quickly now as they were previously," he added. "This is unfortunate, because the scrap in these old cars is urgently needed for war production. A car's value as scrap is about $7.50 to $15, but its value to the war effort cannot be measured in dollars and cents."

He urged all owners of jalopies and unusable cars to sell them to automobile graveyard dealers as soon as possible.

TO OPERATE CABLE CONCERN IN NEW JERSEY

Any Interference Labeled as Offense Against U. S. in Navy Notice.

By The Associated Press

BAYONNE, N. J., Aug. 14.—The navy today seized the strike-bound Bayonne plant of the General Cable Co. and announced it would reopen the factory at 4 p. m.

"Any interference with the operation of this plant is an offense against the United States," said the notice of seizure posted by Rear Admiral Harold G. Bowen.

A navy spokesman said, however, there were no present intentions of bringing in sailors or soldiers to enforce the order because compliance appeared a foregone conclusion.

The thousand workers, whose unauthorized walkout had tied up production of cable for army and navy had welcomed a Presidential order for seizure of the plant and predicted they would return after a meeting to vote the end of the strike. They had defied plant management, union executives and the war labor board in their demand for a wage increase.

Admiral Bowen's announcement was made after a conference with Brig. Gen. R. K. Robertson, director of internal security division, second service command, Governor's island, N. Y., and company officials.

No Pickets Seen
After they had entered the plant, General Robertson's chauffeur stood guard at the gate with a sub-machine gun. No pickets were in sight.

President Roosevelt yesterday gave the order to take over the plant. The strikers estimated at 1,000 by their leaders, voted to continue the walkout they started Monday midnight.

Admiral Bowen, former chief of the navy's bureau of engineering, took charge of the Federal Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co. at Bayonne when the strikers' management, after 134 days last year before returning it to private management.

A strike leader yesterday hailed the Presidential order and forecast it would signal an immediate mass return to work.

"The workers will be happy to go back to work for the key element," said strike chairman Michael Petrakian, adding that the strikers would "work like hell to make up for the time lost and get behind the President."

A meeting of the strikers was called for 10 a. m. today.

The few pickets were withdrawn yesterday upon receipt of word that President Roosevelt had ordered the operation of the factory until he decided its private operation would be "in a manner consistent with the war effort."

Cause of Strike
One thousand strikers walked out on Monday, halting production on cable for the armed forces, over refusal of the war labor board to grant a general 10-cent an hour wage increase over the 78-cent minimum and double pay for overtime work.

The strikers had rejected appeals by both the AFL and Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America to work under private management on behalf of the nation's forces fighting in the Solomon Islands.

Company spokesmen were not available for comment on the President's order.

The threat of a strike over similar issues at the Perth Amboy plant of the company faded last night. Workers voted 119 to 90 against calling a strike after listening to a plea by Lieut. Commander Kenneth T. Venable, industrial relations officer of the Third naval district.

STATE DEMOCRATIC POST STILL VACANT

Speculation Continues Over Chairman Successor.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14—Speculation continued today over a successor to J. Freer Blittinger of Ashland, Democratic state chairman, as chairman Al Horstman of Dayton called for Aug. 23 a meeting here of the state central committee to discuss the opening.

Blittinger, defeated for a committee post in the 17th district, will not be eligible to serve as state chairman after Dec. 31. A new chairman is likely to be selected to direct the Democratic campaign for the Nov. 3 election.

Darrell Jones of Newark, primary campaign manager for John McSweeney, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, held the favored position among candidates being discussed for the state chairmanship.

Jones, former assistant state welfare director in Gov. George White's administration—John McSweeney was welfare director—could have the job if he wanted it, political observers agree. However, it was with some reluctance that Jones accepted the campaign manager post.

O. P. Van Sledright, chief state registrar and state auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's political "general," also was mentioned for the chairmanship. Van Sledright managed the campaign of Ferguson, who gave McSweeney a close race—Tuesday's primary.

It was Van Sledright and Ferguson who led a temporary delegation to McSweeney's headquarters after Ferguson conceded the election.

Bucyrus, Aug. 14—Confidential sources are being distributed and civilian defense volunteers administered the oath at meetings of the various CD units preparatory to the city's first test mobilization Monday night between 7 and 8.

Planes from the Civil Air patrol will fly over the city. Charges of dynamite will be set off in various sections and fires also will be a part of the test plans.

Letters Come from Hardin County Men at Bataan

KENTON, O., Aug. 14—Letters arrived this week from Dr. Calvin G. Jackson, former practicing physician in Kenton, and from Troy Prater of Alger, both of whom have been reported as "missing" since the fall of Bataan Peninsula and Corregidor in the Philippines.

The letters were written long before the fall of Corregidor. Dr. Jackson wrote his mother on Feb. 27th. It was censored a week later and then apparently was carried in someone's pocket for a considerable length of time before it was sent on its way.

Prater wrote his parents that he was well. His letter was written Dec. 20. It took his letter almost eight months to arrive.

AWAIT DECISION IN DODGE CASE AUTOPSY

Cause of Death After Arrest Still Undetermined.

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, Aug. 14—Police Inspector J. O. Whitman ordered an autopsy today to determine whether John Duval Dodge, 43-year-old son of the late John F. Dodge, multi-millionaire automobile maker, died of a hemorrhage induced by excitement over a domestic quarrel or from injuries suffered in a scuffle at a precinct station.

Whitman said it was still undetermined whether a skull fracture, a cerebral hemorrhage or a stroke caused Dodge's death following the last episode in a turbulent career that often brought his name into headlines.

"Our investigation entirely depends upon the findings of the post mortem," the inspector said.

"We had hopes that took place between himself and his wife."

Prosecutor William E. Dowling said Mrs. Dodge told him she suffered a split lip when Dodge struck her during a quarrel, in the home of a friend, Howard E. Lange, while Lange was absent.

Police found Dodge alone in the home, while they were investigating a report of a prowler at the address, and took him to a precinct station for questioning concerning his presence there.

Dodge collapsed while awaiting questioning, and was rushed from the precinct station to a local hospital. He died last night, more than 40 hours after his arrest, without regaining consciousness.

MORROW COUNTY MAN RESIGNS RATIONING JOB

A. T. Breese Quits As Clerk Of County Rationing Board.

Special to The Star
MT. GILEAD, Aug. 14—Arthur T. Breese, clerk of the Morrow county rationing board, has resigned his position to Steve McKirgan, chairman of the local rationing board.

Mr. Breese was appointed as rationing coordinator when the system was first set up and has served for seven and one-half months.

He gave as reason for his resignation the fact that his duties as clerk took too much time from his regular business and made too much of a demand upon his health.

Appointment of a new clerk must be made by the district office of the OPA, but C. W. Schaff of Mt. Gilead has been recommended for the post by Mr. McKirgan.

The offices of the OPA will be moved Tuesday to the Tucker block in the room formerly occupied by the Carter store.

Reveal Ohio Airman May Have Been Hero

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14—A Marine City, O., soldier may have been in the United States aerial detachment which recently shot down six Japanese planes, including "Photo Joe," over the Gona-Buna area of New Guinea, the war department indicated today.

Dispatches from General MacArthur's headquarters Aug. 6 disclosed that a Sgt. W. H. Rohrer of Ohio, a tail gunner, was credited with shooting down a Jap zero fighter during the engagement in which "Photo Joe," a reconnaissance plane, was knocked out of action.

The adjutant general's office of the war department reported in Washington that no W. H. Rohrer was listed there, but that a Sgt. William John Rohrer of 2616 Edison avenue, Moraine City, near Dayton, was in the air force in foreign service.

Would Call Conflict "The War of Aggression."

By The Associated Press
RAVENNA, O., Aug. 14—Lieut. Col. Clarence M. Butler, retired, urged World War veterans, now in Washington in an effort to induce President Roosevelt to name the present conflict "The War of Aggression."

"As the acts of the Axis are commonly and properly referred to as aggression, why not throw it back into the teeth of Adolf Hitler, the prime aggressor, by calling it the war of Aggression?"

Butler, the former ordnance department division officer, who served the federal pension bureau from 1933 to 1937.

Butler also has devised a monogram slogan "Victory over Aggression," the monogram combining the popular V with an A, and hopes personally to call both to the attention of Mr. Roosevelt, who tentatively suggested this be called "The War of Survival."

Although Butler is 72 and is listed as physically unfit for service, he proudly declares, "If I weren't so well known in government service, I'd have no hesitation in shaving off these chin whiskers—which make me look older than I am—and enlisting under a false name."

MORROW CO. SCHOOLS GET NEW PROPOSAL

New Recommendation Proposes Saturday Classes.

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 14—School children will attend classes on Saturday in Morrow county if the recommendations of the county school board are followed.

This week the board reported to the schools that 10 Saturday sessions be held, starting in November, and continuing every other Saturday until March.

Christmas vacation time would be cut from two weeks to Christmas day and New Year's day. In that way school would be dismissed the first week in May.

The county schools have already postponed their starting date, and the elimination of Christmas vacation and Saturday classes seems necessary in order to have a school year of 180 days as required for participation in the school foundation program.

WHEAT HOARD SWELLING FAST

Millions of Bushels Are Being Added Weekly as Fast as Can Be Stored.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Aug. 14—Uncle Sam's hoard of wheat is swelling by millions of bushels weekly as fast as farmers can find suitable storage space, grain trade statistics showed today.

Farmers are putting up their grain as collateral for government loans even though market prices are the highest for August since 1929.

Lending operations are running far ahead of last season, when a total of 278,000,000 bushels was stored.

Up to Aug. 1, loans had been granted on 21,000,000 bushels, compared with less than 4,000,000 at that date a year ago, and lending was averaging 12,000,000 bushels weekly.

The government's lending is not to accumulate more wheat, because Uncle Sam already owns more grain than at any time since the ever-normal granary program came into being several years ago, the total being near 300,000,000 bushels grown in 1939, 1940 and 1941.

Rainier, loans are offered to prevent farmers from dumping the new crop on the market.

To guarantee producers at least 85 per cent of parity, the government is lending at the rate of $1.32 a bushel for No. 2 grades in Chicago. September delivery wheat was quoted at only slightly above $1.17 at Wednesday's close.

The national average farm rate is $1.14, while prices received by farmers for wheat sold is estimated at only $1.11, above 90 cents. A year ago the average loan rate was 98 cents in 1940, 64 cents and in 1939, 63 cents.

Market experts predicted that if the premium producers can obtain by using grain as collateral is not diminished through price rises to or above loan rates the next few months, possibly more wheat will be stored this season than last. In this event, the total in the ever-normal granary may be near 700,000,000 bushels.

Reuters Correspondent Witnessed Aircraft Carrier Eagle's Sinking

Cleared Oil Patch

As I looked clear of the oil patch, the sea became choppy and every wave seemed over my head until I gave myself up for lost.

Then I saw a glorious sight—a cork float 20 yards off with sailors clinging around it.

The sailors were trying to loosen the ropes so they could open the float, the dip like a round bungle, but their oil-lubricated hands were slipping.

The Eagle, 200 yards away by true time, was lying on her side with men still swarming like ants against her great bulk as they slid down into the sea.

I felt a sudden shock at the base of my spine. It was a depth charge. Six or seven times this curious shock from below the water shook us.

"She's going," gasped one of the men near me.

Then came a mighty rumbling as the sea poured into the Eagle, forcing out the air. Water threatened above her in a fury of white foam, then subsided.

A destroyer picked us up a few minutes later.

Steam Hissing

We heard steam hissing viciously and saw clouds pouring up from below into the broad air deck across which we were running. The sea, normally 10 feet below the rails, was surging ominously a bare two feet below them.

We reached the quarterdeck, hauling ourselves up the steeply sloping deck to the starboard side which was highest from the water. Six-inch shells weighing 100 pounds tore close from their brackets and bound down a deck which, by then tilted like a cliff.

Sailors saw them coming and flung themselves into the water to escape injury.

Several sailors clambered to ward us. They fastened a stout rope to the deck, and slithered down it into the thick oil which welled out from under the ship.

I slid down, too, and went under the waves. When I rose to the surface I realized with horror that I had not put enough air in

PRESIDENT'S TOURNEY PAIRINGS ANNOUNCED

ANALYZING THE POLITICAL SITUATION—1

Club Matches Listed: Title Match Sunday.

4 Factors Seen Working To Democrats' Advantage In This Year's Campaign

Following are the four factors by the Gallup Poll analyzing the political situation in the nation. The present article deals with factors favorable to the Democrats. The second article, to be released tomorrow, will deal with factors favorable to the Republicans. The third, to be released the following day, will deal with factors in terms of the good and bad number of votes in the House which would be won by either party if the fall elections were held at this time.

By GEORGE GALLUP

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion
PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 14—This year's political campaign has more confusing factors than any national election in recent years.

Results of the primaries have presented such a mixed and, in some cases conflicting, evidence of national trends that even the best political observers have been puzzled to know what the score is politically.

For a proper understanding of the campaign one must know the underlying factors which this year favor the Democrats and the factors which favor the Republicans.

The Democrats have at least four clear advantages. These are set forth below. The Republicans likewise have important advantages on their side which will be reported Saturday.

1. On the Democratic side stands the fact that President Roosevelt is still extremely popular—more so than he ever was before Pearl Harbor. Throughout the country the latest Institute survey on the subject found 79 per cent of voters approve the way Roosevelt has handled his job as wartime President.

This does not mean, of course, that the Democratic Party will poll any such percentage of the popular vote this November. The popular backing given the President is, in large measure, a personal vote of confidence. But the fact that the President, who is also the head of the Democratic party, does have wide popular support makes the party's job of holding seats in Congress that much easier.

2. The country is inclined to believe, evidence shows, that the Democrats can handle the war effort better than the Republicans. While about one-fifth of all voters in a recent Institute survey said they thought the war effort would go faster if the Republicans had more power in Washington, nevertheless a far larger number think it would actually be slowed. One of the underlying reasons for this attitude is a common belief, encountered time and time again in public opinion surveys, that "the country shouldn't change horses in the middle of the stream."

Some point to the fact that, in England, the people have stuck by the Churchill government despite a series of military disasters culminating in the fall of Tobruk. However, if by some chance the Churchill government should fall between now and November, political observers believe the Republican hand would be greatly strengthened in the campaign, since it would indicate that our major English-speaking ally was not afraid to "change horses" in mid-stream.

3. The Republicans have not been able to develop yet a major issue of sufficient voter appeal to lure large numbers of independent voters into the G. O. P. camp. There are, of course, local issues which the Republicans can exploit to their advantage in state and local races, and in some Congressional races, but so far few issues of a general character have been found that might lead to a major overturn in Congress.

In that respect the situation is markedly different from 1918, when the Republicans won control of the national legislature. At that time the G. O. P. had at least four big issues.

Primary elections this far have indicated no great upsurge of popular feeling against incumbents. The country is not yet throwing a major political ferment and upheaval. Therefore the party in power stands to benefit.

TOMORROW—Factors working to the advantage of the Republicans.

STIMSON ANNOUNCES PUBLICITY CHANGES

Army Public Relations Agencies Reorganized.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—A complete reorganization of the Army's public relations agencies was announced today by the War Department. The new plan, the secretary said, will place the Army's public relations agencies under the War Department, with each of these organizations to have its own publicity officer. Surles bureau but subject to his control as to policy and consistency of news releases.

Stimson said the decision to reorganize the public relations setup was taken before publication of Monday's story issued at Mitchell Field, N. Y., with pictures said to be of fifth column signs pointing to impatience, defense insubordination, a story the army later said "may be untrue."

However, Stimson said, the kind of thing that the reorganization might be expected to eliminate in the future. Obviously aroused by the Mitchell Field story, Stimson said he had made a direct personal request to Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, eastern defense commander, for a thorough investigation.

Christmas Mails Will Not Be Cut, ODT Report Says

The Associated Press
KENTON, Aug. 14 —
Christmas from the ODT there won't be any restrictions on packages near Vulle-on Christmas' cars. was the answer of the defense transportation when government were asked whether of Christmas mail still permitted to roll across as in the days when

WATCH MONDAY'S MARION STAR The ALL- AMERICAN PUZZLE CONTEST $10,000 1st PRIZE

munities and airplane parts weren't competing for space.
The postoffice department said it hasn't thought about the issue yet, but ODT already had delivered into the problem and come up with the answer given above.
The bundles for soldiers are kind of like moving mainly in boxcars, ODT said, and it appears there will be a comfortable supply of such cars even though
"open-top" cars, the coal cars and flat-cars, are in great need Christmas cars travel in fast-express cars, also plentiful enough.
ODT's loading regulations have conserved much boxcar space and these will be canceled up again on Sept. 10 when no car may carry less than 10 tons of package freight. Last year the average load for this type of cargo was five tons.
Neither will there be undue delay in handling the mail, ODT predicted. This results from the order requiring railroads to divert shipments to other carriers if they can't handle them within 24 hours.
But just one reminder—the war-department last Sunday advised early mailing of those all-important bundles for the fighting men overseas.

Columbus Gets Order To Cut Deliveries

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14—Local delivery services must reduce their mileage 25 per cent under the corresponding calendar month of 1941, the office of defense transportation warned today, reporting receipt of numerous complaints of violations of the ODT order aimed at conserving fuel and transportation facilities.
"It is apparent in many cases that operators of delivery services do not know what their mileage was in 1941. The ODT field office staff will help establish a basis for determining the 1941 mileage, which must be reduced 25 per cent this year. If there is doubt consult us," Field Manager Donald T. Maerz said.
The June 1 ODT order limited deliveries to one a day from point to point and prohibited call-backs and special deliveries.

danau, in the Philippines, where a sounding of 35,400 feet has been

Tonight's "Junk" Rally

CAMPAIGNS of one sort and another usually are started off with rallies consisting mostly of speech making but tonight a new method is to be tried out and we believe it is a good one. It will be a program of merry-making on South Main street downtown to launch this community's fat and scrap metals collection. There will be a bit of speech-making but just enough to let the crowd know the primary purpose of the event and not enough to dull the spirits of the audience.

You'll be there, of course, and will have a good time along with the rest of the thousands expected. But as you do, don't forget what we have referred to as the "primary purpose." Keep in mind that while you're enjoying yourself, the object is to help provide our armed forces with the supplies and equipment needed to hurry them on the way to victory. The boys who need this material are not getting much enjoyment out of their lives just now, but they will enjoy chasing the soldiers of the Axis once they get them on the run. This they can accomplish only when given the essential equipment.

So after tonight, do your part by contributing everything possible to the salvage campaign. Possibly you have started already, and if so, keep it up and remind all your acquaintances to do likewise.

The Atlantic Charter a Year Later

EVENTS of the last year have given more meaning to the Atlantic Charter than most readers found there at first sight. It is a greater document than it was on Aug. 14, 1941, because time has revealed the alternatives to its promise of peace, safety and security.

The fundamental issue of the war has been defined, not by theorists but by the aggressors, themselves. They have offered nothing—they have nothing to offer—but oppression, terror and exploitation. That is what they have given the Greeks, the Poles, the Czechs and the Norwegians. It is what they have given their own people. It is what they would like to give everybody who resists them.

The alternative to their sick-em-up policy is the Atlantic Charter. Few Americans, few Britons and few citizens of the other governments that have subscribed to the principles of the Charter can enumerate the eight points. But enumeration of points is unnecessary. The Charter's purpose is to establish an international condition of peace and safety to all nations within their borders and to assure to all human beings the opportunity of choosing their government and living out their lives in freedom from fear and want. There are hundreds of millions of human beings who have no reason to endure what they are suffering except the hope that some day the Charter may become their way of life.

Voting in Wartime

TIME is being wasted worrying about the failure of voting in wartime to measure up to peacetime standards. Apathy to campaigners and neglect to the franchise when the United States is at war are not new.

Representative democracy is not geared normally to the exigencies of war; it is essentially a political structure for peace, whereas a dictatorship is essentially suited to belligerence. In wartime the United States must hope, therefore, that it can convert itself to war making. A dictatorship, on the other hand, exists only for war; it is rarely able to convert itself to peace making or peace keeping.

The United States now is converting itself to war making. The process is naturally exclusive of the preoccupation with politics that otherwise would occur in the year of a congressional election.

This does not signify by any means that the people are indifferent. It means they are busy. They would like to shelve politics for the duration, though they know the politicians must be watched. They hope to be able to do it with minimum effort, because they are preoccupied with other matters, not necessarily more important but certainly a thousand times more urgent.

Part of the War

NIGHT shifts and swing shifts did not come with war, but until production demands shifted hundreds of thousands of former daytime workers to the night side no one worried much about the effect on their sleep.

The three handicaps that bother the daytime sleepers most seem to be light, heat and noise. The first two can be controlled after a fashion by the sleepers, themselves. The third depends on neighborhood cooperation. Sufficient sleep for night workers is part of the war effort.

Complaints are heard frequently from the wives of workers who aren't getting enough sleep because of noise in their neighborhoods. It's safe to guess that this is never malicious; that it is merely thoughtless, like the noises in hospital zones.

Is it possible that a sign—Defense Worker Sleeping—might be the answer to many neighborhood noise problems during the summer?

News Behind the News

Shortage of Materials Brings Hunt To See Who Is Responsible.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Last Saturday a large number of the nation's newspapers were closed down for lack of newsprint.

Up to that time, the official newsprint shortage was not a headline item, but it was a fact.

From that broadcast, and the comment since then, it is apparent every one is looking for the cause of the trouble in the shortage of raw materials (copper, steel, chromium, tungsten) causing war industries to shut or slow down.

Now, again, accusing fingers are beginning to be pointed round at government officials and industries supposed to be responsible. It appears we are in for another of those periods of trying to place blame for our disappointments.

The usual course followed in such periods is for every one involved to blame every one else. A more or less defenseless goat without an alibi usually has been fired or passed on quietly up to a better job. The war production board, or whatever its initials happen to be at the moment, is generally reorganized.

This time, the goat searchers seem to be after Donald Nelson, a search not requiring much effort or ingenuity, as Nelson is the top man.

WPB Changes
Latest WPB talk suggests he has slid out to some place in New York to revise his whole WPB setup for another try. He seems to be at least one jump ahead of the critics, a head-start he gained because he knew of the deficiency first.

It must be evident to every one that what we need this time is not a goat, or a debate, but the raw materials. Indulgence in the usual period of recrimination and reorganization will only delay those materials.

Let no one say they can not be obtained. Hitler has been going along well enough, too well, without any.

The reasons why this situation has arisen are varied, but they will show the way to cures.

Balance between requirements of materials and the production program has not been maintained.

of the government. Britain, Russia and China have been given raw materials upon demand under lend-lease, without sufficient regard for what we need to keep. That situation is still going on today.

Price ceilings were fixed on metals to hold the war cost down, but insufficient consideration was given to the effect this would have on marginal mines. Mines running on a small profit margin could not operate and pay high taxes, became undermanned, and war factories depending on these mines had to shut down.

The situation in copper was presented to Nelson by army supply service chief, General Somervell in four letters before July 24.

The army and navy were not able to estimate accurately in advance the raw materials needed for their program. WPB, on the other hand, failed to distribute what materials we had on the basis of specific war needs, but handed out priority orders to war producers for more materials than we had.

Some private business buyers, who got their priority orders early, have stocked up too much on the raw material they need, thereby depriving perhaps a more vital war industry with priorities from obtaining what it requires.

No Strict Control
The enforcement steps to see that priority regulations were followed by business were not strict. Remember, it was not even a violation of law for any one to accumulate too much raw material until last March 27, four months after the war started.

As in gasoline, first, and now in fuel oil, government policy not only has allowed hoarding but has inspired it. You will recall official threats were made that there would be gas shortages long before rationing went into effect, so naturally every one then kept his tank full around in this part of the country, something like that has happened in industry.

On top of all this, you had the army and navy trying to stock up in the particular lines in which they were interested; civilian industries trying competitively to build up secret inventories, so

Our Ally, Mexico

The Barriers To Back-Door Invasion

ENEMY LANDING in Mexico would face country almost impassable for army movements overland. Travel would have to be by three railroads—to Laredo, El Paso or Nogales (on Arizona border, not shown)—or by the Pan American highway which enters the U. S. at Laredo. Even Gen. Pershing's troops couldn't catch Villa in the barren lanes.

This is one of a series of articles on Mexico and its place in world affairs today.

By SAM JACKSON
Wide World Features Writer

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Aug. 14.—This second city of Mexico is the jumping-off place for the great western desert of Mexico—a place where anything could happen.

Vladivostok has been described as a dagger pointed at the heart of Japan.

This desert is something similar in the case of the United States, though it is too vast and too vague to lend itself to any such figure of speech.

Already Congress has heard that the unidentified planes which called forth Los Angeles' first burst of anti-aircraft fire were based down here.

A feature I have never heard of and which army men is the peculiar phenomenon of "desert pavement." Somehow nature arranges stones to form a vast stretch of level land which is the next thing to concrete.

I walked over one of these, and estimated that by removing a few protruding rocks in half a day's time you could have a LaGuardia.

field, as far as level, usable, landing space goes.

The west coast of Mexico also has many wide, hard beaches at which a combination of air and sea activity would seem feasible.

Ground operations are different.

Even General John J. Pershing found he couldn't catch up with Pancho Villa in Mexico just behind the Yaguis and the Yaquis and the Yaquis and the Yaquis.

The former have a custom of not killing a prisoner but just tying him to stakes over an ant hill.

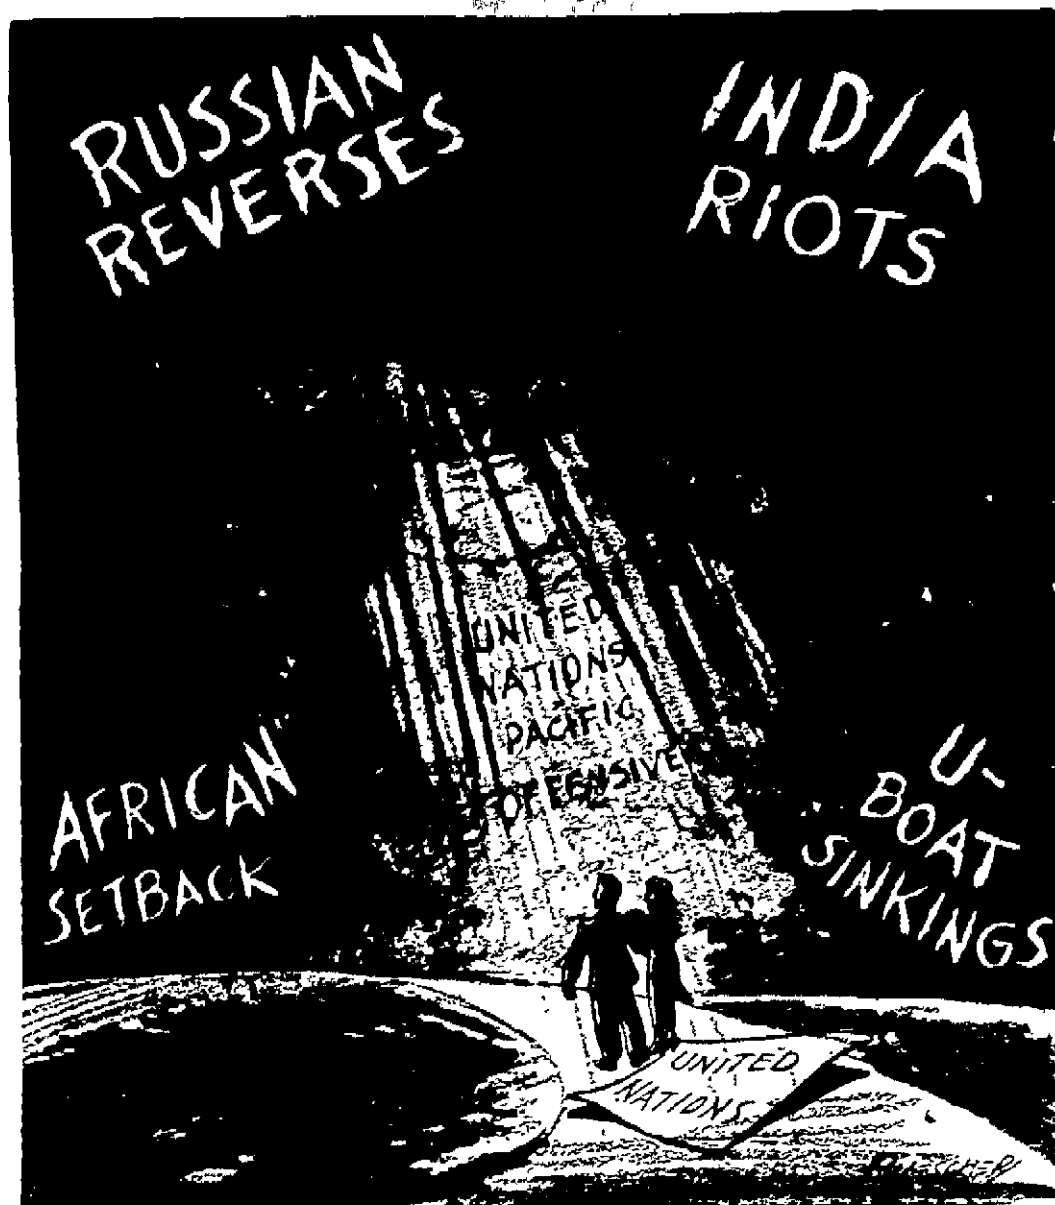

I talked to an old Yaqui who said:

"Our enemies we kill have been the Americans. They come looking for the lost Teyupa mine. Years ago they came just to kill. At Chihuahua City they had three planes, sometimes more, for every grain of a mile Yaqui."

We do not understand the present war but we will fight for our own lands.

Desert Country
This desert country suggests that some mighty hand has crushed out all life between the lush vegetation of southern Mexico and the cotton fields of Texas and orange groves of California.

Dr. Gatling's Famous Gun

It Failed To Save Any Lives.

WAR'S most murderous weapon, though bombs now have become more sensational, continues to be the machinegun, an American invention. In the current issue of "Goldfish Bowl," National Press Club publication, the irony of the machinegun's development is described.

Dr. Richard Jordan Gatling, its inventor, thought it would save life. As a physician in 1861, he was shocked by the mortality in the Civil War that could be traced to disease; bullets killed only three out of 18 fatalities. It seemed to him that a weapon shooting more bullets than a rifle would shorten wars and that fewer men would be needed to fight them. He built his first crude "Gatling gun" in 1862 and finally persuaded the government to become interested in it. The gun, crude though it was, fired 200 shots a minute.

Once in use by the United States, the gun was in worldwide demand. Dr. Gatling became the Sir Basil Zarah of his day. His fame and fortune mounted. The Gatling gun had revolutionized warfare. To show that he was not eccentric in his belief that his invention was essentially humanitarian, the press of the periodists quoted. A British publication said: "The general use of this formidable weapon will tend to diminish the barbarity and actual carnage of warfare as its known, relentless certainty of execution will help to prevent wars and thereby in keeping the peace of Christendom."

Dr. Gatling's invention actually was nicknamed the Quaker gun because it was going to help keep the peace. The British found that its use in riots was so terrifying that mobs dissolved immediately. After arming the world, more or less, with the most lethal weapon conceivable, Dr. Gatling turned to the invention of farm machinery. He invented a steam plough, a rice planting machine, a wheat drill and made numerous improvements on machinery already existing. "Whether he came to realize that his machinegun proved to be something less than humanitarian cannot certainly be stated," remarks "Goldfish Bowl." But it is recalled that, when he first announced his invention, some acquaintances of his had facetiously remarked that the doctor had found another way of killing people.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Aug. 14, 1932. T. E. Kinnear of Marion was elected as one of the five delegates from the Ohio Department of the American Legion to the national Legion convention in Portland, Ore. His election took place at the state convention in Toledo.

The first United Brethren church Sunday school elected officers headed by Harold Prettyman at general superintendent, Walter D. Scranton as superintendent of teachers and Homer Hufford superintendent of attendance.

Marion's Company D. of the Ohio National Guard returned from two weeks' training at Camp Perry. The company made several records, giving it a high rating. During the first week 22 men and one officer, First Lt. Carl F. Ebert, qualified as machine gun target practice, scoring 240 or better out of a possible 400. In the second week 34 men and one officer, Capt. Hubert Taylor, qualified in revolver firing.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Aug. 14, 1922. The international conference on German indemnity, in session at London, broke down without reaching an agreement.

The feature picture at the Marion theater was "The Delicious Little Devil," starring Mae Murray and Rudolph Valentino, and at the Grand Dorothy Dalton had the leading role in "The Crimson Revenge."

Arrangements for sending a delegation to the national Loyal Order of Moose convention at Mooseheart, starting Aug. 20, were made at a meeting of Marion lodge. The local delegation was to go with members from Galion and Bucyrus. Howard W. Crissinger was the Marion delegate and David Murray was alternate.

God can see minute imperfections that men cannot see. Can your work stand that test? Put your heart into your work and your conscience as well: "Whatsoever ye do, work heartily, as unto the Lord, and not unto men"—Col. 3:23.

Plus Fours

Herewith, Some More Formerly
Famous Quartets Whose Names
Once Were Known Far and Wide.

By DAMON RUNYON

A GREAT quartet of the old days was made up of Max Hayes, George Eliot, Paul Adams and Charley Weber. They were supposed to be shoeless boys right in the street and were a good novelty attraction in the era when vaudeville patrons felt they could not get along without quartets. Hayes is now a well-known bookish agent in Hollywood.

A combination of boys in Eton jackets and Eton collars made a strong bid for public attention and approval as the Four Nightingales. It may surprise you to learn that three of the members were Groucho Marx, Gummo Marx and Harpo Marx, later to become famous in somewhat different theatrical guises.

Groucho was the baritone, Gummo the tenor and Harpo, whose complete silence on the stage in after years was his most distinguishing characteristic, was the bass. A slim little fellow from Boston named Lou Levy was the leader. He grew up to a man of about 250 pounds according to Harpo.

Speaking of him, the Primrose Four, billed as "A Thousand Pounds of Harmony," had a member weighing less than 250 pounds. They were Bob Webb, Murohy, Stanley and Groucho. I do not recall the first names of the last three. They teetered the stage when they walked on, but they could sing.

The Elm City Four sang in one of Charles DeBenedictis' shows at the Hippodrome around 1916. The Clippers Four was named in the old theatrical publication, the New York Clipper. The Elson City Four, the Exposition Four and the Four Miners from Scranton had a greater or lesser fame in their day. The Diamond Comedy Four was a combination of perhaps 40 different comedians.

There was a group who did some singing quartets themselves and who is now one of the best-known song pushers in the business, members of which never happened to catch which billed its program as "Christmas Eve on Blackwell Island." It always opened with a prison scene and "Tubby" asserted that it enjoyed considerable popularity.

The still-famous Howard Brothers used to do a singing act, but it was only after the some time taking something of a liberty including a little discourse on quartets. They called themselves the Howard Brothers and were called "The Howard Brothers." They were Howard, Thomas, William, and George Howard. The Howard Brothers took part in the famous "Sank City" variety show. Arthur Williams, lead, chief, named Black, and Al Sheen, after a of Gallagher and Sheen and still later a dramatic actor in his own right, who was a baritone. They billed themselves as "The Fashion Police."

The Arlington Four included Lou Leever, "Harry" Manny, a man named Roberts a that name "Tubby" Garon, who was the baton. The Broadway Quartet was famous burlesque. It was "The Blooming Cooper's." The American Comedy Four and the Empress Comedy Four, headed by Joe Genny, were known combinations over a long period of years.

Then there were the Temple Four and the Baseball Four, made up of baseball players and a Worthington. While the Temple Four and the Worthington were in the business, they were known for their acrobatic act, than any other quartet. I have no doubt I have missed a number harmony groups in this dissertation, but I have given my readers some idea of the widespread popularity of a form of public entertainment that, alas, has gone by the boards.

U.S. Citizenship Speed for Soldiers

By The Associated Press
FORT MONROE, Calif.,—Seven American soldiers talked into the superior courtroom in a matter of minutes to become citizens of the United States.

They were a diversified group. There was a Russian, with straw-colored hair and mustache and pale blue eyes; there was the day of the Venezuelan, with shining black eyes and white smile. Between them were a Puerto Rican, a Yugoslav, a Scot, a French-Canadian and an Englishman.

Ten minutes later they emerged from the courtroom, no longer nationals of seven different countries, but citizens of the United States thanks to the new speed-up-for-action naturalization process which the government offers in military service.

It was done in one session, without the usual first papers, second papers and long wait between. Their officers vouched for their character and good standing, the men answered the necessary questions, before an examining board, signed the necessary forms and took the oath of citizenship.

Army Mess Catered to All Palates

By The Associated Press
SALT LAKE CITY,—Salt Lake City's general the United Nations dropped in for dinner at the Salt Lake army air base this evening.

They would be able to get their favorite food promptly. For the secretary of the officers mess, Lt. Herbert E. Frazer, is accustomed to catering to the eating fancies of important people.

He used to be maître d' hotel at the Brimley Colonial hotel in Nassau, B. V. I., and held administrative posts at the Waldorf-Astoria and Sagamore hotels in New York, the Carillon (N. Y.) Country Club and elsewhere.

At the British Colonial he directed the banquet given in January, 1937, for the Duke and Duchess of Kent.

Lt. Frazer believes the problems of an officers' mess are hardly less difficult than those of a large hotel. Officers of the air corps have a habit of dropping in from the four corners of the country at all hours of the day and night. "Fifty to a hundred officers may appear suddenly with no advance warning. All are hungry and need attention. It's my job to see that they get what they want," Frazer says.

NEW RIVETING METHOD DEVELOPED AT COLUMBUS

Curtis-Wright Corp. Announces
"Gang Riveter" Technique.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14 — Curtis-Wright Corp. reported today development of a new method—reducing man-hours of work by 70 per cent—of riveting airplane fuselages. The new method, called "gang riveting," covers on its fuselage made by planes, the Curtis-Wright bomber and Seagull scout.

General Manager J. A. Wilson said the method involves use of a "gang riveter" a device capable of driving home up to five rivets in one operation.
Previously workers applying the method covering to warplane fuselages installed each rivet individually, one employee operating a rivet gun and another acting as "backer."
The "gang riveter" also permits assembly of the aluminum "skin" on a bench, instead of on the production line proper, thus freeing the fuselage for other operations. Subsequently the "skin" is installed on the fuselage in one section, not piece-by-piece as under the former method.
The gang riveter has eliminated 95 per cent of the rivet reworking caused by incorrect installation, the company said.

In anticipation of the fall canning season about to get under way and as a means of speeding up the handling of sugar applications in Marion county and throughout the state, The Marion Star is cooperating with the regional Office of Price Administration in a new program enabling housewives to obtain their sugar purchase certificates by mail.
Above is printed a special application form, designed by E.
W. Clark, regional food rationing representative, which readers may mail to the local rationing board or take there in person.
The new program has been instituted to supplement the old one, which was too often characterized by long waiting in line for purchase certificates and congestion, of which many housewives complained and which deterred others from applying for canning sugar.
The procedure for getting sugar purchase certificates under this streamlined method is simple, but persons taking advantage of it should read the blank carefully and follow instructions on it.
It applies to those who registered their family units last May and received war ration books, or those who have since received books. Here is all you have to do:
CUT OUT the form along the black border lines.
FILL OUT the form completely.
MAIL IT AND ALL THE WAR
RATION BOOKS OF THE FAM-ILY UNIT PLUS A SELF-AD-DRESSED AND STAMPED EN-VELOPE to the Marion County
Rationing Board, Marion, Ohio.
Purchase certificates will be made out on the basis of the information supplied in the application and will be mailed back to the applicant with his sugar ration books in a few days.
Clark says that war price and rationing boards have been notified of the new program, which has been tried experimentally in several smaller Ohio communities with great success, and that the blank appearing here will be honored anywhere in the state.

"Only those who possess war ration books may apply for their canning allotments by mail," Clark emphasizes. "Those without books must apply to the board in person. They will be issued books if they are now entitled to receive them, or if they still have excess stocks of sugar on hand they will be given authority to deduct their canning sugar from their excess stocks."
"No Rush About Filing" Persons who have already filed applications for canning sugar earlier this year and who have received purchase certificates may mail this form to the board only if they need additional sugar for canning between now and Dec. 31.
"There is no rush about filing applications, since they can be acted upon by the board at any time," Clark says. "All you need to do is allow enough time for the board to handle your application and mail it back before you actually need the sugar."
Clarifying a misunderstanding that has existed in some cities concerning a 10-pound canning sugar limit per person, Clark says there were no fixed amounts of sugar that would be allotted for canning sugar is allotted at the rate of one pound for each four quarts of finished canned fruits or fruit juices for home consumption.
However, Clark points out, sugar for jams, jellies or fruit butters can be obtained only at the rate of one pound of sugar per person per year.
Edgar Barnhart of Marion is chairman and C. C. Holliday of Lafayette is executive secretary of the War Price Rationing Board of Marion county. Roy J. Gar-reau is chairman of the sugar panel.

New U. S. Offenses on World Fronts Viewed by Writer

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
The outstanding development among the big events which are shaping the world scene is the coming of the United States to the forefront of the struggle to secure the offensive in widely separated theaters.
The eagerly awaited moment when the war is rushing to the close of what may easily be the decisive year, ultimate outcome of the conflict may well depend on what happens in the few remaining weeks before winter shows a barrier in front of the advancing Allies.
Further indication of these events is the power comes from the United States for the first time operating from British bases on a large scale against the Axis in western Europe.
The American warplanes, backed by our own and allied warships, and after it, are in the most of a driving offensive against the Axis in the Solomon Islands and a latest report were getting ahead with the job of destroying highly important strategic points from the enemy in the Pacific zone. Big U. S. bombers, backed by our own navy, are making a series of raids against the Axis in the Mediterranean area, and in at least in China are hammering the Axis. Up among the fog-shrouded Aleutians a task force has been busy against enemy units which managed to get a foothold on isolated islands.
The Axis meant that little Sam has come into full strength of anything like it. On the contrary it is just beginning to feel the pinch of its muscles.
The diversity of America's operations, which literally circle the world, emphasize the fact that this is a global war in the full meaning of the term.

Indiana Democrat Heads Republican Finances

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 —
Samuel H. Pettengill, South Bend, Ind., lawyer, who served four terms in the house as a Democrat, has been appointed chairman of the Republican national finance committee.
Pettengill declined to discuss the appointment, announced last night by Chairman Joseph W.
Martin, Jr., of the Republican national committee.
Martin said Pettengill, whom he described as one of the leaders of the fight against the supreme court bill and an opponent of the third term, would set up offices in New York soon preparing for the fall congressional campaign.
Often, national Republican headquarters said, there is no chairman of the national finance committee between campaigns, and there has been none since 1940.
Sincere Weeks of West Newton, Mass., is national committee treasurer, having served in that post since 1941.
Before retiring from congress in 1939 Pettengill represented a northern Indiana industrial area
embracing South Bend, Elkhart, Michigan City and Laporte.

Associated Gas & Electric To Drop 116 Subsidiaries.

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11—The Associated Gas and Electric Corporation must drop 116 subsidiary companies from its network, under a securities and exchange commission ruling.

The break-up order is the first of its kind against the utilities empire built by Howard C. Hopson. Hopson is now serving a five-year term in federal prison for mail fraud in connection with corporate stock deals.

The Associated system collapsed four years ago and is undergoing reorganization in federal courts under the bankruptcy act. The subsidiaries named in yesterday's divestment order are scattered over 24 states and the Philippine Islands.

They include these Ohio concerns: Portsmouth Gas Co., City Water Co., General Utilities Co., New Matamoros Electric Co., Ohio-Midland Light and Power Co., Ohio Northern Public Service Co., Western Reserve Power and Light Co., New London Power Co., Valley Public Service Co., and Lake Shore Gas Co.

All named subsidiaries lie outside four separate new systems which have been proposed by trustees in Associated's bankruptcy proceedings.

APPOINTMENT MEASURE VETOED BY PRESIDENT

Bill Would Have Applied To Survey Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—President Roosevelt vetoed a bill yesterday to authorize temporary appointment, or advancement of commissioned officers of the coast and geodetic survey, in time of war or national emergency.

"Mr. Roosevelt noted," in a message to the house, "that the measure, provided that commissioned officers on the survey's active list shall be deemed to be in active military service."

It would be different, the President said, if a majority of the survey's functions were clearly military or naval.

"On the contrary," in time of peace, he said, "military and naval functions are a small part of them and the majority are civilian."

The President added that under existing law, survey officers under military or naval command are entitled to benefits applying to the armed forces. The survey's main function is to map the coast lines of the United States and possessions.

National League's Ruling on "Bean Ball" To Get Test

Will Be in Force Today When Dodgers and Braves
Open 5-Game Series.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League's new rule making managers subject to an automatic fine of $200 for permitting their pitchers to throw away at a rival's noggins is due for the acid test today when the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves collide in a doubleheader opening a five-game series.

It will be their first meeting since they spent last Saturday afternoon ducking each other's high inside pitches—an exercise that is good for the legs if executed with speed but bad for the head if it isn't.

League President Ford Frick fined Manuel Salvo of the Braves $50 and Brooklyn's Whitlow Wyatt $75 for participating in the "duster" duel and warned pitchers that they also would be fined in the future along with the managers. It cost Wyatt an extra $25 to throw his ball at Salvo.

If other pitchers throw at our players," said Brooklyn President Larry MacPhail in discussing the new league rule, "we'll give them two for one and I don't care whether it costs $20 or $400."

So, with Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers backed by MacPhail's bankroll, it is to be assumed that Professor Casey Stengel of the Braves will have his checkbook handy today in case a few well-chosen pitchers stray too near the region reserved for a batter's cranium.

Positioning of yesterday's bill at Ebbets field was one of four which left the major league card with only three completed contests.

In the only one in the National league, the Chicago Cubs walloped the St. Louis Cardinals, 13-5, to drop the second-place Red Birds eighth and a half game behind the Dodgers.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians came from behind in the ninth inning to edge out the Detroit Tigers, 8-2, and the St. Louis Browns crushed the Chicago White Sox, 8-3.

American League games between Boston and New York and Washington and Philadelphia, and a National League affair between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh all were postponed.

Hockett's Blast Wins for Cleveland

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Hockett, worked a "cinema" finish into the way she broke up his share of a batting slump which has plagued the Indians lately. The freshman right fielder took an hour's batting practice before yesterday's game with the Tigers, and collected dividends in a fashion that had the customers groggy. Going into the last of the ninth inning, Detroit was leading 2-0 despite tight pitching by Jim Bagby, and the Tribe had acquired only four singles off Virgil Trucks.

INDIANS SIGN TWO BALTIMORE PLAYERS

Peckinpaugh Says New Stars
Are Worth $100,000.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, Aug. 14.—The Cleveland Indians today announced purchase of two outstanding minor league infielders—First Baseman Eddie Robinson and Second Baseman Ted Sepeckowski of Baltimore. They will report to the Tribe Sept. 7 or Sept. 15, depending on whether Baltimore gets into the International league playoff.

Roger Peckinpaugh, Indians vice president, said the deal was completed under Cleveland's working agreement with the Baltimore club which provided the Tribe could acquire any two Orioles at a cost of $100,000 each.

"We're probably getting $100,000 worth of ball players," Peckinpaugh said. "Robinson has been one of the sensations of that league all summer and no doubt would bring $50,000 on the open market. Frank Shaugnessy, the president of the International league, was quoted last week as calling Sepeckowski a '$50,000 prospect'."

Robinson, 21-year-old native of Valdosta, Ga., has been batting around .304. He played with Elmir last year. Sepeckowski isn't batting .300, but Shaugnessy has called him "the greatest 18-year-old player I have ever seen." He is a native of Baltimore.

So far this year the Columbus club has won 19 games and lost three while Lords have won 12, lost seven and tied one.

By The Associated Press
Kansas City still held the American association leadership today, a pinpoint of percentage ahead of Columbus, while Toledo continued its rush to the front.

The Blues and the Red Birds lost last night to Louisville and St. Paul respectively, and left the record like this:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Kansas City	67	58	.536
Columbus	66	58	.532
Midwaukee	65	58	.528
Toledo	62	58	.521

Toledo pushed to only two games from first place by beating Minneapolis 6 to 5. It was the Hens' 11th win in 12 starts and their sixth in a row.

Last place St. Paul scored three runs in a 10th inning rally to whip the Red Birds 8 to 4 in the final game of the season between the two clubs. Red Herring sent the route for his ninth victory of the season.

The Blues scored in the ninth, but Nelson Potter settled down to fan Larry Rosenthal for the third out and left two runners stranded as the Colonels collected a 9-4 win.

In their final series of the year, Milwaukee made it three out of four against Indianapolis by beating the Tribe 6 to 4.

Angelo, a fierce-fighting actor, was disqualified in a fight of his previous bouts; and undoubtedly could have been disqualified because of his tactics last night.

He won the first fall in minutes with a crab hold. Bloomfield, who once held a put navy wrestling belts, squared match in four minutes of the crab hold. The third fall was a technicality, as Angelo on a technicality was then supremacy in the ring, as Bloomfield out of the and Bloomfield dragged An

...few moments later. For a time all activity was on the outside of the ring. All the while Referee Les Fishbaugh waited off the seconds. Angelo came into the ring before Fishbaugh had completed the count. He kicked Bloomfield in the head and consequently, Bloomfield was counted out, the match going to Angelo.

According to rules of the game, Referee Fishbaugh was correct in his decision, however it was apparent by only a few of the several hundred fans.

Clifford of Louisville, Ky., defeated Leo Jensen in two rounds, falls to capture an easy victory. The fight was won in the first fall in 25 minutes, with a stop-over toe-hold and ended the second in only nine minutes with a body scissor.

John Kallimoff and Axel Madson battled to a draw in the 30-minute preliminary with neither fighter as much as pinning the opponent for a second.

Man in Pink Shirt Eludes Policemen with Train's Help

For nearly three hours Thursday afternoon, Marion city police and residents living on the Davids street extension hunted for a man "wearing a pink shirt," without success.

Police were called to a Davids street residence at about 3:30 p. m. when someone discovered a man wearing a pink shirt and mokin' trousers attempting to gain entrance to another residence.

For a short time after sighting the wanted man, police were hampered in their attempts to make an apprehension by a freight train on the tracks parallel to Davids street. Police Chief Marks said the train was moving too fast for officers to attempt to pass between cars.

While police were waiting for the train to pass, the man in the pink shirt apparently hid in some tall weeds along the tracks. As soon as the train passed police officers, County Dog Warden Elmer Ullom and residents in the neighborhood combed the area adjacent to the tracks.

When the search failed to net the man, Police Chief Marks directed a search by police cruiser over the entire southwest part of the city.

Captain Louis Kirts of the department suffered a minor head laceration while making a search of the residence where the marauder was first seen. He was attended by Dr. M. M. Weinbaum.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

AT MY father's question, my pulse quickened with the sense of something of vital importance in the air.

"I am not tired at all," I told him truthfully, "and I shall be very glad to see Ronald. Is it permitted to ask why?"

"I deserved that," he said, with one of his rare laughs. "And I will tell you why immediately."

"As you probably have guessed, every letter Ronald receives is brought to me first. I do not open them, but I can tell much from the envelopes."

"Today he received one from Weirhampton, and I am sure it is from his sister Carolyn. He did not show it to me, but later on he was very jumpy and nervous. He kept asking when you would be back, and if it would be possible for him to see you tonight."

Agrees To See Ronald

"Oh, poor boy!" I interrupted. "He must have had disturbing news. Please send him over at once, and I suppose..."

"You are right," he interpreted my pause. "I shall want to know the contents of the letter if you think that necessary. I leave that to your judgment, also persuading Ronald to show me the letter."

As he went out I braced myself to give all the strength, counsel and encouragement I could manage to Ronald, harried by the uncertainty of his fiancée's fate and by his doubts of his idealized sister.

In less than five minutes Ronald's knock sounded on my door and when opened I saw that he was wrought up as he had not been since he first came to the hotel and told me of his harrowing interview with his sister Carolyn.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Aug. 15

A DAY of high adventure and possible commotion and clamor are indicated by the unusual queries based on lunar and mutual operations. There may be sudden, breath-taking and whirlwind developments of an unpredictable nature. These having a far-reaching effect on the future and its good fortune. It is probable that thrilling romance or dramatic adventure may give great spur to emotions and ambitions, as well as to creative urges expressed in an out of the ordinary channel. However, there are hazards and temptations, demanding vigilance, self-restraint and a measure of composure and poise. In the most vivid moments, as there is hint of intrigue or sinister entanglements.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter it, not thrillingly enjoy a year of spectacular, exciting, adventurous and romantic events, with the faculties and forces keyed up to dramatic experiences or exceptional accomplishments. It may be a time of surprising and unpredictable visitation, having much influence in shaping the future destiny and fortune. If not a romantic or emotional circumstance, these energies may be expressed in a stroke of creative genius in art, drama or literature.

A child born on this day should have unique, audacious, sensational and curious experiences in both its romantic and creative life.

He sank heavily into the chair I indicated, and said: "I've just had a letter from Carolyn, and I don't know what to do about it. I ought to turn it over to your father, I suppose," he went on.

"But it's an awful thing to show anybody a confidential letter from my little sister."

"However, I know it must be done. I must not think of anything except Marion's safety. But I thought if you read it first, you could tell your father about it, then I could write her that I had not shown it to anybody but you."

Journey Recalled

I looked at him in amazement at masculine blindness. Did he not realize that, of all people in the world, Wilfred Carolyn Brixton would object most to my seeing her letter?

"Do you mind reading the letter?" he asked pleadingly.

"Indeed no, dear boy," I told him warmly, and he took the letter from an inside pocket and held it out to me.

"If she were only the old Carol, the little sister who was my pal!" he said.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Fever Symptoms

A THOUGHTLESS diagnosis of neurasthenia or nervous prostration is set upon many an unfortunate patient who is in fact suffering from chronic undulant fever infection," says Dr. Walter M. Simpson, Director of the Kettering Institute for Medical Research at Dayton, Ohio.

I referred to the acute form in my article yesterday, pointing out that it came from drinking milk of an infected animal and from handling the flesh of infected animals. This last is an occupational disease, and hardly concerns the average citizen. For him the great protection lies in the use of pasteurized or certified milk.

But undulant fever got its name because it is a sluggish, undulating, low fever and anybody anywhere may sometimes get hold of some milk where the pasteurization did not entirely kill off all the germs and a mild form of infection ensues. We said yesterday it was a fever "with nothing to show for it." In other words, no pain to speak of, nothing localizing to draw attention to any part of the body.

The person with a mild infection may feel seedy for a while—notice no more than loss of pep, poor appetite, constipation, a little nagging headache, or muscular ache, muscular rheumatism or mild joint pains—not enough to take him to a doctor. And then much of this wears off and the chronic stage supervenes, consisting of no more than just a daily feeling of fatigue worse in the afternoon, and a deep-rooted aversion to starting anything new.

There is a sure way of testing to see whether a person has ever had an undulant infection and that is by a skin test. This is performed by injecting a very small amount of vaccine of the dead germs into the skin with a hypodermic. At the end of 24 hours if the person has ever harbored undulant germs, the site of injection in the skin becomes red and itchy so until 48 hours after the injection. This is quite a reliable test and allows your doctor to decide whether in a given case the symptoms of prolonged fatigue and listlessness are due to an old chronic undulant infection or not.

A list of the conditions which undulant fever may imitate sounds like the catalogue of diseases on the old patent medicine bottle. It includes influenza, bronchitis, sinus disease, gall-bladder infection, appendicitis, dyspepsia, sciatica, lumbago, neurasthenia, hysteria and five kinds of skin diseases.

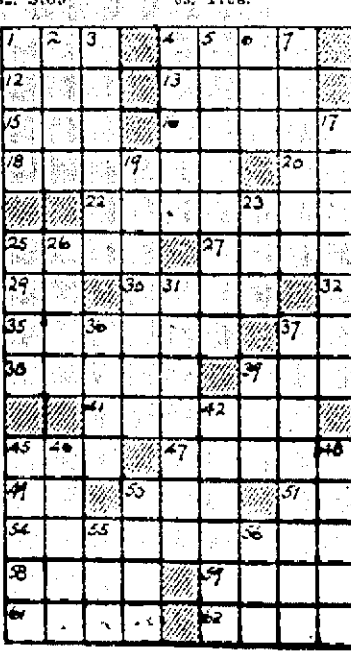

Once recognized for its true self, treatment by vaccines made from the organism usually quickly brings about relief. The person with the chronic infection has been fighting a sluggish foe and is able to down it well enough to drag around. But the foe never rouses his fighting forces enough to kill it off. The vaccine is the same foe in a dead or chemical form and may make him feel worse for a while, but that is just because his immunity is rising enough to kill off the enemy completely.
